BELLARMINE

April 22, 23—At the close of the raffle of "Bellemanor" a two day festival was held and was attended by tremendous crowds. Mayor Fred Watson of San Jose drew the winning ticket from the barrel and had as witnesses the new City Manager, "Dutch" Hamann, and Judge Del Mutolo. The winner of the home was a cannery worker, wife of an unemployed laborer and mother of six children. Front page articles and pictures and an editorial in the local papers won a great deal of good will for Bellarmine, as a result. Father Gerald Sugrue, former rector of Bellarmine, was present for the festival.

April 29—Two hundred and sixty Raffle and Festival workers sat down to a dinner in celebration of the successful conclusion of the raffle. Tribute was paid particularly to Mr. Lloyd Brome, who had spent a great deal of time on the raffle up to his death in December, to Mr. Frank Mackin, who gave full time for three months and the use of a truck and a car during the same time and to Mrs. Joseph Maher, mother of our two Scholastics, who spent ten months working an eight hour day organizing a special office and a permanent mailing list and issuing over 200,000 tickets and taking the returns, all as a volunteer worker. Net proceeds of the raffle and festival were approximately $50,000.00. This together with "Bing's" $10,000.00 gift, other gifts and proceeds from other Dads and Mothers Clubs' ventures and income made it possible to pay off the entire $85,000.00 debt on the new school building.

May 1—May Day was celebrated with a Solemn High Mass and a Rosary Pageant. The Living Rosary was followed by Benediction with a consecration of the student body to Our Lady of Fatima. Father Dondero gave the sermon at the Mass and one of the students, Bill Nolan, gave a Marianum at the afternoon ceremonies. During the noon hour students recited the rosary at the shrine every day in May.

May 5—Duncan Fife, a sophomore, has survived five contests of the Lions Club International Oratorical Contest and will represent Northern California and Nevada in the finals at San Diego in June.

May 10, 11 and 12—Triduum for the Scholastics by Father Simpson.

May 13—Two hundred and four eighth graders took an aptitude test, were entertained with a sports program and a picnic lunch under the direction of Father Corvi. Bellarmine's debaters and orators concluded an extraordinarily successful year at the San Francisco State College with three firsts, three second places and four third places in the various departments of oratory and debating. The debate teams brought home from state tournaments twelve trophies and fourteen medals. Mr. Fitch and Mr. Swain are the moderators.

May 17—Five of the Dads and Fr. O'Gara barbecued 680 steaks for Dads and Sons Day. A sports program in the afternoon was followed by the barbecue and an evening program during which both academic and athletic awards were made. The new officers of the Dads' Club were installed and the appointment of Jos. Sullivan '32 as Director of Athletics was announced. He will also continue as manager of the Public Relations Office. A new school song by the song writers of Bing Crosby's office was introduced for the approval of the audience. Father Flynn was chairman of the day.

Devotions for May are continued again this year at the Lourdes Shrine.

Fr. Ralph Deward was guest of the house during his retreat.

Fr. Eugene Toner and his "Western Jesuit" photographers took different pictures of the community and house for a coming edition of the "Western Jesuit."

LOYOLA HIGH SCHOOL

As returns on donation books of the Fiesta continue to pour in, the large thermometer graph in the main hall gives eloquent testimony from day to day that the classes are vying with one another to push their red mercury up to the 100% mark. Notable is the fact that Fr. Heneghan's Freshman class, 1-B, "broke their thermometer" and are now somewhere in the vicinity of 120% of the class quota. And as more and more prizes for the Fiesta are donated, it is hard to judge which is more noteworthy —the enthusiasm and cooperation of students and faculty or the generosity of friends and patrons of the school.

Each year attendance at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum for Mary's Hour increases. Some seventy thousand people nearly filled the mammoth stadium this year. In general, the program was similar to last year's—Living Rosary, Story of Fatima, Address and Solemn Benediction. Fr. Charles Casassa. the principal speaker of the day, in a brief but inspiring talk, pointed out how "Mary's Hour" must, in our individual lives, become Mary s month and year and century if this is to be the era of peace.

Carrying on the commendable work of acquainting the Dads of Jesuits with facts about the Society, Father Rector explained the "Spiritual Exercises" to the group at the May meeting of this newly formed organization of Jesuit Dads.

With Bishop Timothy Manning as guest of honor, the Community was host to the heads of other Catholic high schools in the city on Father Rector's holiday, May 19. The day's festivities were concluded with a movie in the evening.

Under the supervision of Fr. Want, and inspired by the talks of Fr. Justin McCarthy, the Freshman Sodality spent a well-planned day of recollection on Sunday, May 7. In the afternoon, after seeing the movie, "You Can Change the World," the Sodalists joined the other seventy thousand people at the Coliseum to celebrate "Mary's Hour."

Celebrating her golden jubilee as a nun, the aunt of Father Wondra enjoyed the added privilege of having Father as Celebrant at the Solemn High Mass offered on this occasion.

Entertained by the Glee Club from Loyola University, the Henry Welch Guild (Mothers of Loyola students) installed new officers at their annual spring tea.

Odors of baked ham, frying potatoes and boiling coffee in the vicinty of the auditorium told of the Jesuit Mothers' "pot-luck" dinner, which they hold annually for the High School and University communities. According to the testimony of all present, the dinner would not seem to have been really "pot-luck."

Continuing an annual tradition, the Loyola Dad's Club sponsored another very successful "Talent Show" at their last meeting for the current season.

After having spent ten days in the hospital, Father James Kelly is back on the list of those who are up and around.

In two vigorously contested debates with prospective Loyola entrants from St. Brendan's grammar school, our Freshman debaters bowed to the more intensive preparation of their younger fellow-debaters, arguing the question, Resolved: "That parents are chiefly responsible for juvenile delinquency." They will console themselves and regain their poise by staging an exhibition debate for a grammar school group from St. John the Evangelist.

Conferring with Mr. Hilsdale, this year's moderator of the school's annual, a few noteworthy changes in the layout for this edition will be the group pictures of the faculty taken according to the departments in which they teach, instead of individual pictures; also the fact that dark green and not black will be the color scheme; and finally, the theme of the book will be a tour of the campus illustrated with ground maps.

Imitating an organizational scheme of the Jocists, Mr. Fernandez has inaugurated the cell plan for a select group of the Senior Sodalists. Since its formation, the group has been exemplary in carrying out exactly the spiritual requirements for Sodalists.

Two new publications have recently appeared on the campus; one a news outlet for Junior Sodality activities, published under Mr. Kolda's supervisorship; and the other, the "Lionulus," a Latin tabloid of various recent school activities, a news sheet that originated somewhere in the Second Year Latin department.

The day for renovation of vows will be Pentecost Sunday.

Mr. Eugene Miller spent a few days at the high school while he was in Los Angeles for the veiling of his sister who is a Carmelite.

Very Reverend Father Provincial spent a few days at the high school on his return from St. Louis.

MANRESA HALL

Tertians returned home from their Lenten assignments to find that their Lourdes Shrine had been desecrated. St. Bernardette was smashed beyond repair. The heavy statue of Our Lady was shoved out of its niche and it demolished the altar below. The statue itself was badly chipped. For the traditional May devotions at the shrine, a small statue is brought out each evening and placed in the empty niche.
